

WALLMANS ROLLS OUT THE RED CARPET FOR THE CONFERENCE MARKET IN COPENHAGEN

GREAT CONFERENCES DESERVE GREAT LOCATIONS

Wallmans at Copenhagen Circus Building offers new opportunities for companies and event agents to stage conferences and events that provide the perfect experience to be remembered!

Wallmans provides up to 1,100 more conference seats in the metropolitan area for large and medium sized companies; this alone will change the conference provider and event venue landscape in the greater Copenhagen.

“For many years employees have been obliged to attend conferences and seminars in locations that strongly resemble their own workplaces” says Sales & Marketing Manager Danielle Eliassen. “At Wallmans we make sure that the experience begins at the entrance. In addition, we take care of all the practical details so that our customers can concentrate on creating a great conference that will get their message across in the best possible way.”

Since 2003 Wallmans has been operating a successful business at Copenhagen Circus Building entertaining more than 100,000 guests annually at their Dinner Shows. Wallmans is now placing its event management and logistics expertise at the disposal of companies and event agencies who can create the perfect arrangement in the Circus Dome and/or in the former horse and camel stables that house the Buddha Lounge; our new venue concept. Danielle Eliassen says that companies are always welcome to book a conducted tour of the Circus Building to see how perfect it will be for their next conference or event.

Our recipe for success is that the customer always achieves his goals through being the perfect host. We have the flexibility to fulfil practically every need. Our conference rooms can be arranged exactly as guests require with a personal Wallmans Event Manager as a single point of contact. We can help integrate a part of our existing show with the customer's own presentations, product launches, or seminars. If our customers wish to continue networking, it's no problem. They can simply continue until the early hours of the morning. With hotels and transport right outside the door you never have to worry about time.

A conference or any other company event is all about getting the message across, Wallmans have helped many companies and organisations such as Cisco, Danica and Novo Nordisk to do exactly that. Wallmans offers unique surroundings unlike any other conference centre.

Wallmans different, unique and memorable!
